Chapter 11 Case No.
09-50026 (REG)
(Jointly Administered)

REPLY TO (I) RESPONSE FILED BY TRACY WOODY
TO OBJECTION TO CLAIMS AND MOTION REQUESTING ENFORCEMENT OF BAR DATE ORDER AND (II) REQUEST FOR SANCTIONS

TO THE HONORABLE ROBERT E. GERBER
UNITED STATES BANKRUPTCY JUDGE:

The Motors Liquidation Company GUC Trust (the “GUC Trust”), formed by the above-captioned debtors (collectively, the “Debtors”) in connection with the Debtors’ Second Amended Joint Chapter 11 Plan, dated March 18, 2011 (as may be amended, supplemented, or modified from time to time, the “Plan”), files this reply (the “Reply”) to the (i) response filed by Tracy Woody to the GUC Trust’s objection to proofs of claim number 70490 and 70481 and (ii) motion requesting sanctions against two attorneys at Dickstein Shapiro LLP, co-counsel to the GUC Trust (the “Response”). In support of this Reply, the GUC Trust respectfully represents:

PRELIMINARY STATEMENT

1. In October 2010, Tracy Woody, a pro-se claimant, filed two proofs of claim in the amount of $33,687.36 (Claim Nos. 70481 and 70490, collectively, the “Original Claims”) against Motors Liquidation Company, seeking to recover the value of an allegedly defective vehicle and certain additional costs. The Claims were filed almost one year after the November 30, 2009 deadline to file proofs of claim established in the Debtors’ chapter 11 cases (the “Bar Date”).

2. On August 24, 2011, the GUC Trust filed its 243rd Omnibus Objection to Claims, which included an objection to the Original Claims on the basis that such claims were not timely filed (the “Objection”).<sup>1</sup> Thereafter, Ms. Woody filed the Response, in which she argues, among other things, that (i) the GUC Trust is “fraudulently claiming” that the Original Claims are without merit and (ii) sanctions in the amount of approximately $25,000 should be imposed against the undersigned attorneys. Response ¶¶ 2-3, 5.<sup>2</sup> As set forth more fully below, none of Ms. Woody’s arguments have any merit. Consequently, the GUC Trust submits that the Original Claims should be expunged and the motion for sanctions denied.

3. Notably, having considered the de minimis value of the Claims and the need to be judicious in the use of the GUC Trust’s limited resources, the GUC Trust has made various efforts to resolve the Claims. However, given that Ms. Woody has failed to respond to such efforts or meaningfully participate in any discussions with the GUC Trust, the GUC Trust has no choice but to pursue the Objection.<sup>3</sup> Significantly, even if the GUC Trust were inclined to do so, it could not simply allow the Claims, because, among other things, they are (i) duplicative of each other and (ii) classified as secured. If the Court were to find that the Original Claims were timely filed, the GUC Trust would request that (i) one of the Original Claims be expunged as duplicative and (ii) the remaining Original Claim be reclassified as a general unsecured claim.<sup>4</sup>

<sup>1</sup> The GUC Trust has asked that the Objection be heard together with the GUC Trust’s objection to two other claims (Claim Nos. 70860 and 70869, and together with the Original Claims, the “Claims”) filed by Ms. Woody (the “Supplemental Objection”). As set forth more fully in the Supplemental Objection, Ms. Woody filed additional claims against the Debtors in February, 2011. Such claims were also untimely, and the Debtors are seeking disallowance and expungement of the Supplemental Claims on that basis.

THE LATE-FILED CLAIMS

4. On October 14, 2010, Ms. Woody filed a motion in this Court seeking relief from the automatic stay (the “Stay Motion”) to pursue a lawsuit against “General Motors Company/Chevrolet Division of GM/General Motors Corp.” The Stay Motion was denied by order of the Court dated January 6, 2011.

5. On October 21, 2010 and October 25, 2010, Ms. Woody filed Claim Nos. 70490 and 70481, respectively, against Motors Liquidation Company:<sup>5</sup>

- Claim Number 70490: This claim is for a “pending state court lawsuit.” The basis of the claim, a portion of which appears to be classified as secured, is described as a manufactured defect of car; a loan ensued from a third party; and a product liability lawsuit pending revocation of contract.” The value of the property,

<sup>3</sup> Most recently, the GUC Trust proposed to Ms. Woody that she accept an allowed unsecured claim in a fixed amount in full and final settlement of the Claims. The Settlement Letter set November 11, 2011, as a deadline for the claimant to respond to such offer. Ignoring the Court’s suggestion at the hearing on Ms. Woody’s motion for relief from the automatic stay, Ms. Woody did not respond to the Settlement Letter. See December 2, 2010, Hearing Transcript, at p. 54 (“I would encourage you, Ms. Woody, considering how little a claim may be worth, to seriously consider any settlement offer that GM might offer you.”). (The transcript is attached as Exhibit A). Counsel has not been able to reach Ms. Woody by phone since the end of October, as the number provided in her proofs of claim has been disconnected. Counsel has also attempted to reach Ms. Woody at another publicly available number, but counsel’s call was not returned.

<sup>4</sup> To the extent the Supplemental Claims are also found to be timely filed, the GUC Trust would also seek relief which would (i) ensure only one of the Claims survive, and the others are expunged as duplicative and (ii) such surviving claim is classified as unsecured.

presumably of the Vehicle, is stated as $33,687.36. Attached to the claims are consumer credit documents between Ms. Woody and Farm Ranch Auto Sales and receipts from Chevy Trucks listing the Vehicle Price as $41,775.00.

- Claim Number 70481: This claim appears to be an exact duplicate of Claim No. 70490.

6. On February 10, 2011, and February 11, 2011, Ms. Woody filed Claim Nos. 70860 and 70869 against Motors Liquidation Company. These claims are the subject of the Supplemental Objection. See supra n. 1.

ARGUMENT

A. The Claims Were Not Timely Filed and Should Thus Be Expunged

7. On September 16, 2009, this Court entered an order pursuant to section 502(b)(9) of the Bankruptcy Code and Bankruptcy Rule 3003(c)(3) establishing the deadline for filing proofs of claim and seeking related relief (ECF No. 4079) (the “Bar Date Order”). The Bar Date Order set November 30, 2009 as the date by which each person or entity was required to file a proof of claim against four of the Debtors, including Motors Liquidation Company. Bar Date Order, at p. 2.

8. Section 502(b)(9) of the Bankruptcy Code provides that, upon the objection of a party in interest, a claim shall be disallowed to the extent that “proof of such claims is not timely filed.” 11 U.S.C. § 502(b)(9). Pursuant to Bankruptcy Rule 3003(c)(3), a proof of claim is not timely filed unless it is filed “prior to a bar date established by order of a bankruptcy court.” In re XO Commc’n, Inc., 301 B.R. 782, 791 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. 2003); Fed. R. Bankr. 3003 (c)(3).

9. Given that Ms. Woody failed to file her Original Claims in accordance with the deadlines set forth in the Bar Date Order (indeed, they were filed almost one year after the Bar Date), such claims should be disallowed and expunged.

B. The Request for Sanctions has no Merit and Should be Denied

10. In her Response, Ms. Woody requests that sanctions be imposed against the undersigned counsel for filing the Objection. As set forth above, however, there is more than sufficient legal and factual predicate for the Objection. Fed. R. Bankr. 9011 (b).<sup>6</sup> Moreover, the Objection is not being presented for any improper purpose which would support the imposition of sanctions. Id.

11. It is well settled that sanctions are reserved for wholly egregious conduct, such as where the claim being advanced has “no chance of success” or the arguments made are “frivolous.” Baker v. Latham Sparrowbush Associates (In re Cohoes Indus. Terminal), 931 F.2d 222, 227 (2d Cir. 1991). That most certainly is not the case here, where there is no dispute that (i) the Original Claims were filed well after the Bar Date and (ii) under the plain terms of the Bar Date Order, “any holder of a Claim against the Debtors that is required but fails to file a Proof of Claim . . . on or before the applicable Bar Date shall be forever barred, estopped and enjoined from asserting such Claim against each of the Debtors and their respective estates.” Bar Date Order at 5.

12. In short, there is no evidence that the Objection was “unwarranted, factually unsubstantiated, or not based on information or belief” as required for the imposition of sanctions under Bankruptcy Rule 9011. In re Esteve, No. 01-13341, 2004 WL 5327181, at *5 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. Nov. 24, 2004). Consequently, the GUC Trust requests that Ms. Woody’s request for sanctions be denied.

<sup>6</sup> It is not clear the statutory predicate for the relief Ms. Woody seeks. For the purposes of this Reply, we assume she is seeking sanctions under Bankruptcy Rule 9011, which incorporates Federal Rule 11.

CONCLUSION

For the reasons set forth above, this Court should enter an order expunging the Claims, denying Ms. Woody's request for sanctions, and granting such other and further relief as the Court deems just and proper.

MOTORS LIQUIDATION COMPANY, et al.

Page 12

1 P R O C E E D I N G S

2 THE COURT: Have seats, please. All right, GM Motors
3 Liquidation. I'll hear first about where we stand on 4 disclosure statement, then I'll deal with the asbestos matters.
5 I'll deal with the Tracy Woody matter at the end. Mr.
6 Karotkin?

7 MR. KAROTKIN: Good morning, Your Honor. Stephen
8 Karotkin, Weil Gotshal & Manges, for the debtors.

9 I'm pleased to report and I think that Mr. Jones and 10 Mr. Mayer will confirm this, that an agreement has been reached 11 among the U.S. Treasury, the creditors' committee, and the 12 debtors with respect to all outstanding issues which were 13 preventing the approval of the disclosure statement, and we 14 expect to finalize all the wording in both the revised plan and 15 disclosure statement in the next day or so, circulate a revised
16 draft to the sixty people who filed formal objections, as you
17 had directed us a month or so ago.

18 And what we would ask the Court to do is to schedule
19 a hearing next week to the extent that any issues are raised by 20 those sixty people, and to the extent there are any issues,
21 they can be addressed at that time, and we would expect, Your 22 Honor, at that point, to present to you an order approving the 23 disclosure statement.

24 THE COURT: Well, obviously I'm pleased to hear the 25 progress you made. In terms of giving you a hearing next week,

MOTORS LIQUIDATION COMPANY, et al.

1 because other matters were put off and sandwiched in to deal
2 with the needs of this case, there isn't much room in the inn.
3 I may be able to give you 8:00 o'clock in the morning on 4 Wednesday, the 8th before I get on a plane.

5 MR. KAROTKIN: That's fine.

6 THE COURT: I'll need to hear from you or one of your
7 staff as quickly as possible to ascertain whether I need to use
8 that time or not.

9 MR. KAROTKIN: Okay. It would be our expectation,
10 Your Honor, that the document would be finalized at the latest
11 tomorrow and would go out either by e-mail or Federal Express
12 to those parties.

13 THE COURT: All right. I'll also have to let you
14 know whether 8:00 o'clock works. I don't know whether I can 15 get other courtroom staff in that early. I'm not the problem, 16 but I can't proceed without an ECRO operator and without 17 support by the Marshal Service. Let me know if we really need
18 that time as soon as you can.

19 MR. KAROTKIN: I guess the only issue, Your Honor, is 20 we won't know immediately whether those sixty people have 21 issues.

22 THE COURT: Well, these are matters upon which I've 23 already ruled, and the only question is your implementation of 24 my rulings --

25 MR. KAROTKIN: That is correct.

MOTORS LIQUIDATION COMPANY, et al.

1 THE COURT: -- am I correct?

2 MR. KAROTKIN: That is correct. I'm not really
3 expecting anything substantive, I just don't know in terms of 4 if some issue comes up and we need to see you, that's the only 5 issue.

6 THE COURT: All right. Just a minute, please.

7 (Pause)

8 THE COURT: All right. Continue with your next
9 matter while I'm dealing with some of this, Mr. Karotkin.

10 MR. KAROTKIN: Mr. Smolinsky will deal with that.

11 THE COURT: Okay. Oh, wait, Mr. Mayer, are you
12 rising for something?

13 MR. MAYER: Well, as part of the status report and 14 disclosure statement, I have an understanding with the debtors
15 and the government that we would read --

16 THE COURT: I'm having trouble hearing you, Mr.
17 Mayer.

18 MR. MAYER: I'm sorry. If we're still on the 19 disclosure statement, Your Honor, part of my agreement with the 20 debtors and with the Treasury was that we would read into the 21 record the essential elements of business points that had been 22 reached so that we put those to bed and they are done.

23 THE COURT: Sure, there's a good time to do it.
24 Wait. Stand by for a minute.

25 MR. MAYER: Certainly.

2 THE COURT: I'll give you 6:00 o'clock p.m. on 3 Tuesday, the 7th, Mr. Karotkin.

4 MR. KAROTKIN: Thank you, sir.

5 THE COURT: Go ahead, Mr. Mayer.

6 MR. MAYER: We won't take long, Your Honor, and I'm 7 reading from a text which has been reviewed by both counsel to 8 Treasury and counsel to the debtors.

9 Number one, with respect to any recoveries from the 10 term loan litigation, which will be in the avoidance action
11 trust, recoveries from the term loan litigation will be paid to 12 Treasury until Treasury has received an amount equal to all 13 fees and expenses, allocable to the term loan litigation, which 14 were paid from the proceeds of Treasury's DIP wind-down loan
15 during the Chapter 11 case, or that will be paid from the 16 proceeds of the Treasury's DIP wind-down loan post-effective
17 date.

18 The amount will include all professional fees and 19 disbursements incurred by counsel for the estate, including 20 Weil Gotshal, Kramer Levin and Butzel Long as plaintiff and all
21 professional fees incurred by counsel to JPMorgan Bank, agent
22 as defendant, including Kelley Drye and Morgan Lewis or any 23 other defendants that the estate is required to pay, if any,
24 and the fees and disbursements --

25 THE COURT: Just a minute, please, Mr. Mayer.

MOTORS LIQUIDATION COMPANY, et al.

1 CourtCall, put everybody on the phone on mute, and give me an
2 acknowledgement that you've done so.

3 (Pause)

4 THE COURT: Well, I don't have the acknowledgement,
5 but continue, Mr. Mayer.

6 COURT CALL OPERATOR: Your Honor, everyone is on 7 mute.

8 THE COURT: All right.

9 MR. MAYER: All professional fees incurred by counsel
10 to JPMorgan Bank, agent as defendant, including Kelley Drye and 11 Morgan Lewis, or any other defendants that the estate is 12 required to pay, if any, and the fees and disbursements of any 13 expert retained by any of them.

14 With apologies for departing slightly from the 15 script, but as a summary, if there's an expense Treasury paid
16 in connection with this litigation, it comes back from the 17 proceeds of the litigation, if any. That's basically the deal.

18 THE COURT: All right. Mr. Jones, do you have any 19 problems with what Mr. Mayer said?

20 MR. JONES: No, Mr. Mayer has accurately described 21 the agreement on this point.

22 THE COURT: All right. Mr. Karotkin, I don't know if 23 you have skin in this game, but I take it you have no problems
24 either.

25 MR. KAROTKIN: No, sir.

1 THE COURT: Okay. That's fine, Mr. Mayer.

2 MR. MAYER: Thank you, Your Honor. Second, with 3 respect to the GUC Trust Budget, that's General Unsecured
4 Creditors' Trust, and the avoidance action trust budget,
5 Treasury has agreed to a nine million dollar budget for the GUC
6 Trust's post-effective date fees and disbursements of GUC Trust
7 general counsel. Any legal fees and disbursements in excess of 8 the nine million dollar budget would not be funded by proceeds
9 of the DIP credit agreement or wind-down loan agreement, and 10 absent any other source of funds, would be borne either by 11 counsel personally, or by the GUC Trust through the sale of 12 stock or warrants to raise funds.

13 Treasury confirms that the nine million dollars is 14 not law firm specific. Treasury does not care which firm 15 represents the trust.

16 THE COURT: Mr. Jones?

17 MR. JONES: Also correct, Your Honor.

18 THE COURT: Mr. Karotkin?

19 MR. KAROTKIN: Yes, sir.

20 MR. MAYER: Treasury has further agreed to the budget
21 for Wilmington Trust as GUC Trust administrator, and no further 22 back-up from Wilmington is required. Treasury has agreed to 23 the budget for FTI as GUC Trust monitor. No further back-up
24 from FTI is required.

25 Treasury has agreed to the budget submitted by Butzel

MOTORS LIQUIDATION COMPANY, et al.

1 Long as special counsel to both trusts in connection with the
2 term loan litigation and the Nova Scotia litigation, no further
3 back-up from Butzel Long is required.

4 THE COURT: Gentlemen?

5 MR. JONES: David Jones again, Your Honor, from the 6 U.S. Attorney's office, also correct.

7 MR. KAROTKIN: I agree, sir.

8 THE COURT: Okay.

9 MR. MAYER: With respect to asbestos estimation,
10 Treasury has agreed to a four million dollar budget to cover
11 fees and disbursements for the estimation of asbestos
12 liabilities incurred by counsel for the debtors, the official
13 committee of unsecured creditors, the asbestos creditors'
14 committee, and the futures representative, and the experts
15 retained by each for the time period commencing November 1, 16 2010 through the conclusion of the estimation process.

17 THE COURT: This estimation asbestos business is 18 anticipated to cost us four million bucks?

19 MR. MAYER: If we go all the way through a trial, 20 yes, Your Honor.

21 THE COURT: Mr. Jones?

22 MR. JONES: That is a correct statement of the 23 agreement, Your Honor. I would say it's on an up to basis.
24 We'd be delighted if the number came in well below.

25 MR. MAYER: Nor, of course, does it commit Treasury

1 or anyone else not to examine people's fees and disbursements
2 for reasonableness, and then of course, the Judge -- the Court
3 remains free to do with the fees and disbursements as the Court
4 sees fit.

5 THE COURT: Uh-huh. All right. Mr. Karotkin?

6 MR. KAROTKIN: We agree with Mr. Jones.

7 THE COURT: Okay. With respect to title to the term
8 loan litigation, Treasury and the official committee of 9 unsecured creditors will further consider the issue of 10 ownership of the term loan litigation, following the December
11 3rd hearing on cross motions for summary judgment in the term
12 loan litigation. That's tomorrow.

13 Treasury notes that the order approving Treasury's
14 DIP wind-down loan precludes the use of proceeds of the loans
15 to litigate against the DIP wind-down lenders. The plan shall 16 provide that paragraph twenty of that order, which contains 17 that prohibition, shall continue to apply to Motors Liquidation
18 Company, the GUC Trust and the avoidance action trust after the 19 effective date.

20 Treasury reserves its right to enforce this 21 provision, including by objecting to allowance and payment of 22 any fees or expenses incurred during the Chapter 11 case, or 23 after the effective date on litigation over the term loan
24 litigation.

MOTORS LIQUIDATION COMPANY, et al.

1 MR. JONES: Your Honor, that's also correct. The 2 statement as to the particular parties that it applies to is 3 not understood by Treasury to limit more broadly the 4 effectiveness of the order or the paragraph, but we wanted --

5 THE COURT: I lost you, Mr. Jones.

6 MR. JONES: -- specific assurance -- sorry.

7 Your Honor, there's a specific statement in the 8 language Mr. Mayer just wrote, stating that the order shall 9 continue to apply specifically to MLC, the GUC Trust, and the 10 avoidance action trust after the effective date, which is 11 correct, and I'm just noting that Treasury is not suggesting or 12 taking the position that the order is in any way limited by 13 this provision. That states a particular application.

14 MR. MAYER: We don't have a problem with that, Your 15 Honor. The basic deal is that whatever the orders says it
16 says, and it continues in full force and effect after the 17 effective date. That's the deal.

18 MR. JONES: That's correct, thank you.

19 THE COURT: Okay.

20 MR. KAROTKIN: I assume we're talking about paragraph 21 twenty of that order?

22 MR. MAYER: Yes.

23 MR. KAROTKIN: Okay.

24 MR. MAYER: Finally, the committee understands that 25 Treasury needs to review and sign off on the final final

1 disclosure statement and plan, and that, of course, is true for
2 us, too. But the committee is done on the business points, and 3 we expect to have a letter recommending that creditors vote for 4 this plan when it goes out, and we are doing that on the 5 understanding that when this plan and disclosure statement is 6 finally printed and mailed, that means the Treasury is in 7 support of it, too.

8 THE COURT: Mr. Jones?

9 MR. JONES: Thank you, Your Honor, David Jones from 10 the U.S. Attorney's office. As we've just confirmed on a line
11 by line basis, Mr. Mayer has correctly stated the business
12 agreement that the committee and Treasury has reached with the 13 issues he just described.

14 We do need to reserve rights, pending our final
15 review of documentation that just came in last night, and there
16 may be one or two --

17 THE COURT: Reserving rights to ensure that the 18 paperwork confirms your understanding of the deal, I take it,
19 not to raise new issues?

20 MR. JONES: That is correct, Your Honor, and there is 21 one small subissue not raised in these that we don't think will 22 be a problem, that we need to finally confirm is done. We 23 think we'll have that done within the day and I rise to 24 indicate that based on our understanding of the deal as 25 described by the record, and based on our understanding of

1 agreements reached with the debtors, we are now in business
2 agreement on the plan subject to those reservations I just 3 stated, and we hope to press to full final approval and 4 agreement imminently, as within a day or certainly by the end
5 of the week.

6 THE COURT: All right. Anything else on plan and
7 disclosure statement?

8 All right. Hearing nothing, I don't know if there
9 are people who were here solely for that, but if they are, they 10 can leave.

11 MR. MAYER: Thank you, Your Honor. That includes a
12 number of us including Ms. Sharret who unfortunately for me
13 will be taking an extended leave.

14 THE COURT: I'm sorry. I couldn't hear you, Mr.
15 Mayer.

16 MR. MAYER: I'm sorry. I just wanted to acknowledge
17 Ms. Sharret's work and to indicate that she will -- please
18 stand up, Jennifer.

19 THE COURT: Okay.

20 MR. MAYER: She needs to take a week. Thank you,
21 Your Honor.

22 THE COURT: Thank you. Mr. Smolinsky.

23 MR. SMOLINSKY: Good morning, Your Honor, Joe
24 Smolinsky, Weil Gotshal and Manges for the debtors.

25 The next matter on the calendar is the motion seeking

1 authorization to estimate the aggregate amount of asbestos
2 personal injury liability. Keeping with the theme, I believe
3 we now have an agreement with respect to the first step, which 4 is setting the schedule to allow for the preparation and 5 prosecution of an estimation hearing before this Court, as we
6 continue to use our best efforts to try to resolve these issues
7 consensually.

8 Looking at the end date, which is the date under 9 which a -- at which an estimation hearing would be held, we 10 originally asked in our motion for a hearing to be scheduled
11 towards the middle to end of February. Under the new schedule,
12 we would be asking the Court to fix a date for the hearing as 13 close as possible to the first week in March.

14 Backing up, the various dates that are set forth in 15 our proposed order would be modified, some actually moving 16 forward and some moving slightly backward, in order to 17 accommodate that.

18 The only other issues with respect to the order as it
19 was proposed is that the parties wanted to make clear, looking 20 at the order, that the parties' exchange of exhibits that would 21 be fixed by Your Honor, depending on how far in advance Your 22 Honor would like those exhibits, would not include exhibits
23 that are used for purposes of impeachment or rebuttal, but only 24 for the case in chief.

25 And lastly, Your Honor, there's a provision,

MOTORS LIQUIDATION COMPANY, et al.

1 subparagraph F of the order, which sets a date for the filing
2 of pretrial briefs. I think the parties are unclear as to 3 whether pretrial briefs would be desired or helpful to Your
4 Honor prior to the estimation hearing.

5 THE COURT: To what extent do you have an 6 understanding with the other parties as to whether there would 7 be post trial briefs apart from pretrial briefs?

8 MR. SMOLINSKY: We do not provide for that in the 9 order. Again, I think it's -- I think the parties are willing 10 to look to Your Honor to decide what would be most helpful.

11 THE COURT: Well, I need briefs of one kind or 12 another, Mr. Smolinsky, and I'll allow the others to weigh in 13 on this, too.

14 MR. SMOLINSKY: My view is that if there are going to 15 be briefs, they should be pretrial briefs, so that Your Honor
16 is in a position to rule as quickly as possible after the 17 hearing.

18 THE COURT: Fair enough. Everybody on these monster
19 evidentiary hearings wants me to rule as soon as possible.
20 There are limits as to my ability to do that, and frankly I'm 21 getting tired. I'm already tired.

22 To the -- let me rephrase that. Assuming, as I do,
23 that you want prior rulings or rulings as quickly as possible,
24 you'll have to give me briefs in advance and the expert reports
25 as early as possible in advance, and I'll need to know, and

MOTORS LIQUIDATION COMPANY, et al.

1 this is a reprise from the Chemtura trial, which similarly had 2 everybody in the world wanting me to rule as quickly as 3 possible on a very complex hearing with a lot of expert
4 testimony.

5 I'll need to know whether you're stipulating with 6 each other that the expert reports can be taken as direct
7 testimony, and can themselves be regarded as admissible, or on 8 the other hand, whether anybody is raising hearsay objections
9 to those, so that we have to go back and reinvent the wheel.

10 In my experience, most recently as a judge, also in 11 the thirty years that I was a lawyer before that, in commercial 12 cases, most of the time people were not of a mind to raise the 13 technical hearsay objection that they're allowed to on an 14 expert report, as long as there was an opportunity to cross-
15 examine the expert.

16 But if there are hearsay objections to the expert
17 reports, then I'm going to either need direct testimony much 18 earlier than I otherwise would, or I will need you guys to 19 understand that you're going to have to cool your heels for a 20 decision much longer than you otherwise might.

21 Additionally, of course, I'm going to need logistic
22 support from all of the feuding parties with respect to such 23 matters as giving me all documents in word processing format
24 and not just PDF and hard copy format.

25 You're the only one I've heard from so far,

MOTORS LIQUIDATION COMPANY, et al.

1 Mr. Smolinsky, and I'm going to finish your thoughts, but at 2 the least, I'm going to need that.

3 MR. SMOLINSKY: Your Honor, I don't have much more to 4 say, but let me address those issues in particular. The 5 schedule as we've laid out, I think provides Your Honor with 6 what we believe to be a significant amount of time in advance
7 with the documents. The schedule would provide that expert
8 reports would be filed by January 14th. Pretrial briefs would 9 be filed by February 8th.

10 THE COURT: Just a minute, please. I -- your earlier
11 motion or is it something that Mr. Swett or Mr. Esserman had 12 submitted had contemplated that in addition to there being a
13 first round of expert reports, there would be rebuttal reports.
14 I could swear somebody was complaining of constitutional
15 violations because of insufficient time to do rebuttal reports.

16 MR. SMOLINSKY: Yes, Your Honor.

17 THE COURT: Where did you guys finally come to rest 18 on that?

19 MR. SMOLINSKY: The rebuttal reports would be due by 20 February 4th, which is in advance of the date February 8th for 21 the filing of pretrial briefs. So if we have the hearing in 22 the first week of March, the briefs would be in your hands
23 pretty much a month prior.

24 THE COURT: Wait. You said briefs, but I take it you
25 meant the two rounds of reports, expert reports?

MOTORS LIQUIDATION COMPANY, et al.

1 MR. SMOLINSKY: Yes, and then the pretrial brief by
2 February 8th.

3 THE COURT: Oh, okay.

4 MR. SMOLINSKY: With respect to questions raised with 5 respect to hearsay objections, I don't have a strong view I
6 guess, but one suggestion may be that any hearsay objections
7 can be raised in the brief, which again will be before you
8 almost a month before the trial, so that you can consider those 9 in advance of the trial.

10 THE COURT: All right. You understand that I was 11 intending to make a distinction between underlying hearsay that 12 might be included within an expert report, and the separate 13 issue which some legal scholars debate as to whether the 14 hearsay -- the expert reports themselves are hearsay.

15 Now, I think the law's pretty clear, subject to your 16 rights to be heard, that experts are allowed to rely on hearsay
17 in forming their opinions, but that the fact that they form
18 their opinions on that basis does not make otherwise
19 inadmissible hearsay admissible.

20 Now if either side has a different view, I'll give 21 you an opportunity to be heard on it. But I -- when I am
22 making findings, there is a fundamentally different way that I
23 do it depending on whether or not I'm allowed to use an expert
24 report as in substance, a proxy for the expert's direct
25 testimony, and I don't expect you to respond to that this

1 minute, but I expect you to let me know what your position on
2 that is well before the first week of March.

3 MR. SMOLINSKY: Fair enough, Your Honor. Generally,
4 I think we all understand that the expert reports would be 5 admissible generally, and we'll try to get you that 6 confirmation that you can treat it as such.

7 THE COURT: Okay.

8 MR. SMOLINSKY: Subject to everybody else being 9 heard.

10 THE COURT: All right. Does that finish your 11 thoughts, Mr. Smolinsky?

12 MR. SMOLINSKY: It does.

13 THE COURT: All right. Then I need to hear from Mr.
14 Bentley, Mr. Swett and Mr. Esserman.

15 MR. BENTLEY: Good morning, Your Honor, for the 16 record, Philip Bentley.

17 We support the positions that Mr. Smolinsky has 18 described, I guess, to run down the list in order, we also 19 think that if Your Honor is amenable to not having post trial
20 briefs, we think that would be beneficial from a timing
21 standpoint to not have them.

22 We certainly support the suggestion that I think Your 23 Honor was making that the parties eliminate any possible
24 hearsay issue by -- essentially by stipulating that the expert
25 reports can be deemed direct testimony by the experts. We

1 would support that stipulation and I hope the other parties
2 will as well.

3 THE COURT: Okay. Mr. Swett.

4 MR. SWETT: Yes, sir. Trevor Swett, Caplin &
5 Drysdale for the official committee of unsecured creditors
6 holding asbestos related claims.

7 Your Honor, we support the proposed schedule. It is 8 premised on the notion that we are heading into a classic
9 battle of experts with very little, if any, fact witness
10 testimony. And that has allowed us to streamline that, plus
11 the stipulation that we submitted earlier in the week,
12 eliminating the issue of significant discovery against third
13 party trusts, and solvent defendants, has allowed us to 14 streamline this.

15 It seems to be a sensible proposal. We share the 16 view that the expert report should be available to you to 17 consider as evidence, and that the direct testimony of the 18 experts, if any, would be quite limited, so that the reports
19 would stand as the core at least of their direct.

20 THE COURT: So the direct would be not much more than 21 if called upon to testify or I hereby incorporate my expert
22 report as my direct testimony?

23 MR. SWETT: Something along those lines.

24 THE COURT: Okay. Mr. Esserman.

25 MR. ESSERMAN: For the record, Sandy Esserman. The

MOTORS LIQUIDATION COMPANY, et al.

1 only additional comment I have is I've been involved in one
2 trial where the issue that Your Honor just raised did occur on 3 expert reports. And the only thing I can tell the other
4 parties, it was exceedingly difficult and frustrating for 5 everybody, including the attorneys when that issue was raised,
6 and obviously, I think Your Honor correctly identified it as an
7 issue, and for the FCR, there's no way we would raise that 8 objection, especially me personally having been through that 9 trial, and I would urge everybody to accept the suggestion of 10 the Court, and I think the parties will, that expert reports,
11 unless there's otherwise an objection to them, not be objected
12 to on the basis of hearsay.

13 THE COURT: All right. Mr. Esserman, I think I hear
14 either a consensus or an emerging consensus among the four 15 major players on this.

16 MR. ESSERMAN: Yes.

17 THE COURT: Since you seem to understand my concerns
18 as well as anyone, I'm detailing you to take the leadership
19 role in papering a stip or consent order with the concurrence
20 of the other three players, in which the deal is memorialized.

21 MR. ESSERMAN: I'll be happy to do it, Your Honor.

22 THE COURT: Okay.

23 MR. ESSERMAN: Thank you.

24 THE COURT: All right. Mr. Smolinsky.

25 MR. SMOLINSKY: Thank you, Your Honor. So I think I

MOTORS LIQUIDATION COMPANY, et al.

1 have all the dates filled in, other than the one that we need
2 Your Honor for, which is the date for the commencement of the 3 hearing. And again, the agreement that was reached subject to 4 Your Honor's approval was that we would target the first week
5 in March.

6 THE COURT: And by that, you mean like Tuesday, March
7 1 or are you talking about Monday the 7th or what?

8 MR. SMOLINSKY: Monday, March 1 would be okay with 9 us.

10 THE COURT: March 1 isn't a Monday --

11 MR. SMOLINSKY: Tuesday, Tuesday.

12 THE COURT: -- according to my calendar.

13 MR. SMOLINSKY: Tuesday, I apologize, Your Honor.

14 THE COURT: Well, let me call in Ms. Blum (ph) again,

16 (Pause)

17 THE COURT: Mr. Smolinsky, did you say Tuesday, March 18 1st?

19 MR. SMOLINSKY: I did, Your Honor, but we were just 20 discussing an issue that Mr. Esserman has that we're trying to 21 navigate.

22 THE COURT: Would you guys want to discuss amongst 23 yourselves, or that you want me to be party to this negotiation 24 with that?

25 MR. SMOLINSKY: Your Honor, did you say that the 7th

MOTORS LIQUIDATION COMPANY, et al.

1 is also available?

2 THE COURT: Don't go too far, Elaine. Huh?

3 MR. SMOLINSKY: Did you say that the 7th was also 4 available?

5 THE COURT: I said it might be, I didn't say it would 6 be, that's why I asked Ms. Blum to come in.

7 (Pause)

8 THE COURT: I sense that you're checking your 9 calendar, but I take it we're essentially talking about the 10 time that each of you guys needs to cross-examine your 11 opponents. Have you formed a view as to how much time you need
12 for that purpose? Remembering that the direct will have all 13 come in by expert report and by affidavit direct.

14 MR. SMOLINSKY: Listening to the opinions, I would 15 say somewhere between one day and two days.

16 THE COURT: One and how many?

17 MR. SMOLINSKY: Two.

18 THE COURT: One and two. Okay.

19 (Pause)

20 MR. BENTLEY: Your Honor, I hate to upset the apple
21 cart, but I think realistically with four expert witnesses,
22 cross-examination of each by multiple parties, and presumably 23 significant redirect since each party won't have done their 24 usual direct, I think realistically we're really talking three 25 days.

1 UNIDENTIFIED SPEAKER: I think that's absurd.

2 THE COURT: All right. I've got to tell you that in
3 a three billion dollar contested valuation hearing, excuse me,
4 I think the final ruling was closer to two billion, we did the 5 whole thing in two days. Because I not only assume, but I
6 insist that allies coordinate with each other. But with that 7 said, I heard you, Mr. Bentley. Mr. Smolinsky, if you guys are 8 hot to get an early decision, I would suggest especially in 9 light of the concerns that Mr. Bentley articulated, that you
10 consider using as many of the days of the week beginning March 11 1st as possible.

12 MR. SMOLINSKY: I would have to agree with that, Your 13 Honor, and we'll have Mr. Esserman address the Court, but to 14 the extent that it's going to be a three-day trial, I would 15 prefer to start on March 1st.

16 THE COURT: All right. Mr. Esserman, let me hear
17 your concerns.

18 (Pause)

19 THE COURT: Mr. Esserman.

20 MR. ESSERMAN: Your Honor, I'm generally in 21 agreement, of course, with everything that has been said. My 22 concern is there are certain other asbestos trust meetings that 23 involve several of the experts that have been set for the week
24 of March 1st; March 1st, 2nd and 3rd, and that is my concern
25 with the dates. No other concern. I would hope we could all

1 get it done in two days, also, but that's why --

2 THE COURT: You're talking about in other cases?

3 MR. ESSERMAN: Yes. We'll live with whatever
4 schedule Your Honor decides. I just wanted to raise it, we're 5 talking about three or four days here.

6 MR. SMOLINSKY: But those aren't hearings, those are 7 meetings, aren't they?

8 MR. ESSERMAN: Yes, those are very large group
9 meetings, and some of the people involved are trustees of those 10 trusts, but.

11 THE COURT: Well, frankly, folks, I've tried to give 12 people courtesies, but my ability to manage my calendar has 13 been pushed to the limit, and frankly, my predilections to be a 14 customer friendly court have been pushed too far. They've been 15 pushed too far on matters of scheduling, they've been pushed
16 too far on people giving me eighty-page briefs, and I've stated
17 in other contexts that I have no interest in being a pawn in 18 the asbestos wars.

19 I will authorize you to arrange your witnesses, if 20 you can, to facilitate Mr. Esserman's concerns, because frankly
21 I don't see the order in which I hear experts as making a
22 difference. It would normally be the case since strictly 23 speaking that this is an estimation motion brought by the 24 debtors, that the debtors' expert would be crossed first in any 25 event, and then it would be my inclination to take the

1 creditor's committee's expert next. Which if we begin on
2 Tuesday, March 1st, would very possibly give you at least one
3 day where you know you don't have to put your witnesses up
4 anyway for cross.

5 But frankly, gentlemen, that's as far as I'm of a
6 mind to go.

7 MR. ESSERMAN: Your Honor, that's fine, we'll live
8 with it. I just wanted to raise the issue and we'll accept 9 whatever Your Honor decides.

10 THE COURT: Okay.

11 MR. ESSERMAN: It's not a problem.

12 THE COURT: All right.

13 MR. ESSERMAN: Thank you.

14 THE COURT: So you're going to have Tuesday, March
15 1st as the starting time for the hearing, 9:45 unless you want 16 to begin at an earlier time. You can have starting as early as 17 8:30 if you want. I'm going to give you Wednesday the 2nd, and 18 I would prefer frankly to -- if we need to go on, to finish up
19 that same week.

20 Is there anybody here who's religious who can't go
21 past 2:00 or 3:00 o'clock on Friday? I mean, a player in the 22 case, obviously -- in this controversy, obviously?

23 No? All right. So I would hope and expect we can
24 get all testimony in the week beginning Tuesday, March 1st.

25 Now, although I don't look for post trial briefs,

1 it's my custom to permit closing argument, oral argument and
2 legal argument, and have you guys talked about how much time
3 you need for that?

4 MR. SMOLINSKY: No, Your Honor, that's maybe
5 something that we can discuss amongst ourselves and include in 6 the order when it's submitted.

7 THE COURT: Okay. Any disagreement with what
8 Mr. Smolinsky just said?

9 Okay. Then that's the way we'll do it.

10 MR. SMOLINSKY: Well, thank you very much, Your 11 Honor. We will circulate an order, a proposed order, and then 12 submit it to the Court.

13 THE COURT: Okay. A reminder, folks. When direct
14 testimony affidavits come in, I need them in word processing
15 format, as well as PDF format. And I want all the expert
16 reports in word processing format also. And I assume that in 17 this type of matter there is likely to be very little, if any,
18 contractual language or language from other documents which 19 wouldn't be available in word processing that would be of 20 significance in deciding this. But if there is, I'll need any 21 such language in word processing format as well, so I don't 22 have to make my chambers staff key in all sorts of contractual 23 documents.

24 Also going to remind you for the nine hundredth time
25 to keep lawyerisms out of your briefs and your submissions. I

1 don't need to know debtor's social or social security numbers
2 or EINs, or even the last four digits of them. I don't need to
3 know the history of the case. I want the submissions to focus
4 on the issues that are before me. With that said, this is 5 going to be handled as a contested matter and not as an 6 adversary proceeding, and therefore, no pretrial order will be
7 required. I think that was implicit, but I'll say it
8 explicitly.

9 Okay. Anything else, Mr. Smolinsky?

10 MR. SMOLINSKY: Not in that matter, Your Honor. The 11 next matter is the Tracy Woody motion for relief from the stay.
12 If you'd like, we can skip over that and handle the rest of the 13 calendar. It should only take a few minutes.

14 THE COURT: If there are other people in the 15 courtroom besides on the Tracy Woody matter for any of your 16 other stuff, which I take it it's largely or wholly undisputed,
17 you can clear that, and then I'll deal with Woody.

18 CourtCall, you can now put Ms. Woody off mute.

19 Go ahead, Mr. Smolinsky.

20 MR. SMOLINSKY: Thank you, Your Honor. Moving to the 21 uncontested matters, the debtors' ninety-seventh omnibus
22 objections to claim, there was one outstanding claim that had 23 not yet been resolved. We have now worked that out, and we're 24 ready to submit an order, which would expunge that claim. That 25 claim is a claim filed on account of GMAC bonds that was

1 mistakenly interposed thinking that GMAC is related to GM.

2 So with that order being entered, that would resolve
3 omnibus objection number ninety-seven. We'll submit that order
4 to the Court.

5 THE COURT: All right. That's fine.

6 MR. SMOLINSKY: Resolved matters, we have two other
7 motions to -- for relief from the stay today. The first one is 8 filed by Timothy Bynum. We have resolved that matter by 9 stipulation, which will be submitted to Your Honor.

10 We have agreed to lift the stay to permit Mr. Bynum
11 to pursue his claim in Indiana state court. This is a matter
12 in which an insurance company, Arch Insurance Company is 13 defending a co-defendant, as well as MLC. So we've agreed to 14 lift the stay to allow that case to continue. The insurance
15 company will defend, and Mr. Bynum has agreed not to assert any 16 claims against MLC or any of the other debtors.

17 THE COURT: Oh, fine.

18 MR. SMOLINSKY: The next item is a motion for relief
19 from the stay from Samuel Barrow. We have resolved that motion
20 by our agreement to put Mr. Barrow's proof of claim into our 21 ADR process, so we have a stipulation that dictates that we 22 will designate the claim for ADR and mediation by no later than 23 December 31st, 2010.

24 THE COURT: Sure.

25 MR. SMOLINSKY: Lastly, Your Honor, at the end of the

1 calendar, we have a section on withdrawn matters. One of which
2 is the 2004 brought by the committee, a withdrawal has been
3 filed with respect to that. Next we have the Boyd Bryant's
4 (ph) motion to allow them to file a class proof of claim.

5 Your Honor will recall that we settled that matter
6 and a judgment was entered, so there's no reason to go forward
7 with that motion, and a withdrawal notice was submitted --

8 THE COURT: Just a minute, please, Mr. Smolinsky.
9 Ms. Woody, is that you who's making the noise or, CourtCall, I
10 assume you haven't unmuted anybody else?

11 COURTCALL CLERK: Yes, Your Honor, the background
12 noise is coming from Ms. Woody's line.

13 THE COURT: All right. Ms. Woody, I need you to be 14 quiet, please, until it's your turn to be heard. Every time
15 you rustle papers or do noisy things at your desk, it gets 16 magnified and amplified in my courtroom.

17 Go ahead, Mr. Smolinsky.

18 MR. SMOLINSKY: The last two, Your Honor, which is 19 the debtor's ninety-first omnibus objection to claim and 20 debtors' a hundred and seventh omnibus objection to claim, we 21 have agreed to withdraw the motion with respect to the last
22 remaining claim in each of those matters.

23 So for purposes of cleaning the court docket, we 24 would like to submit an order just confirming that those claims
25 -- the motion has been withdrawn with respect to those claims,

MOTORS LIQUIDATION COMPANY, et al.

1 and the rest of the objection could be marked off calendar as 2 resolved.

3 THE COURT: Of course, sure.

4 MR. SMOLINSKY: And that, I believe, leaves with us
5 Ms. Woody's motion.

6 THE COURT: All right. Ms. Woody, I'll hear your 7 oral argument. It's your motion. I do have a few questions of 8 both sides. First, I saw an indication in the debtor's
9 response that there were settlement negotiations that were 10 being considered or ongoing, and I'd like to know what happened
11 to them, since I would've thought that the cost of litigating
12 this motion could exceed the amount of the cost of repairs or 13 damage to the vehicle.

14 I also did not see in this thick package, but I may 15 have missed it, the actual ruling by the North Carolina state
16 court, but Ms. Woody, I didn't see any reply by you that would 17 cause me to quarrel with what the debtors said about the claim
18 being found to be untimely, although the words that the debtor
19 used struck me as odd. Certainly, I don't rule that way. Time
20 barred and/or failed as a matter of law, I would've thought 21 that most judges would be more specific in saying what they're 22 ruling on and why.

23 Ms. Woody, you didn't deal with the Sonnax factors,
24 which are the factors that a judge in my circuit, the 2nd
25 Circuit, must take into account in deciding whether or not to

1 grant relief from the stay. And, of course, there are many,
2 many precedents where I have ruled, principally by dictated
3 decisions on others' requests for relief from the stay, which 4 so far as I recall, I have denied in every instance, and I
5 guess the question I have is why this case should be regarded 6 as different than the others, and why the precedents of the 7 others don't equally apply here.

8 So with that said, I'll hear first from you, Ms.
9 Woody.

10 MS. WOODY: First of all, Your Honor, I would like to 11 apologize. My daughter is actually sick and she was coughing.
12 I was just trying to let her know I was on the phone with the 13 Court.

14 But in any event, I believe that there are certain
15 bankruptcy procedures that has to be followed regarding General
16 Motors. I believe I was supposed to be sent a proof of claim
17 and possibly a notice of creditor's meetings, because -- a 18 meeting, because I know that they, General Motors, was aware of 19 the lawsuit that I filed against them as the manufacturer.

20 I purchased a vehicle that was part of a lawsuit
21 against General Motors, regarding some manufacturing defects in 22 the vehicle, and I filed my case regarding this within the 23 three-year period. And I did not receive a proof of claim from 24 the attorney for General Motors. I didn't receive any notice
25 of creditor's meetings.

1           The only thing I received was this Chapter 11
2       confirmation and a letter previously telling me that GM was in
3       bankruptcy, and that I should dismiss my case, or sanctions may 4       be imposed upon me. That's the letter I received from the 5       attorney's office for GM.

6           So I wasn't aware of the deadline, of any deadline
7       for a claim, but at this point, I'm still an interested party.
8       I still have a Wayne County court -- district court case
9       against which General Motors is one of the parties, that I'm 10      going to get in against because of manufacturing defects to the 11      vehicle and the damages and so forth that pursued (sic).

12           And as far as the bankruptcy, it is not set up to 13      protect any misrepresentation of a product or any type of -- I 14      mean, I was sold the product saying that the vehicle was in 15      good shape, that it had been tested, there was no problem with 16      it.

17           When I took the vehicle to a car mechanic, as a
18      matter of fact, General Motors is the one that sent this 19      litigation or lawsuit information a year after the warranty was 20      over, and it mentioned as long as -- well, the mechanic
21      mentioned that was working on my car, mentioned that the 22      speedometer defect had to be repaired by the manufacturer, and 23      the vehicle I had was down for several months.

24           And he mentioned -- we had a long conversation, the 25      mechanic and I, and there were some issues with the

1 manufacturer, it was some manufacturer defects. And what
2 concerned me is that the vehicle stopped while I was driving,
3 and I had my children in the car, and my elderly mother. And 4 we stopped, actually it stopped while we were driving, and we
5 were right there in a dead curve where somebody could've really
6 hit us, and we could've had a horrible accident.

7 But in any event, the ruling for the Wayne County
8 District Court was -- the attorneys had mentioned that I had 9 not filed the claim or the cases -- I should say the case, I
10 didn't file to serve it or serve it with the proper subpoenas
11 and so forth, which I'm not sure what happened to those 12 subpoenas, but I -- as far as everything was filed and even 13 served a second time around to the attorneys that these 14 defendants, including General Motors. And I don't know how 15 that paperwork got missing. I guess it was just a clerical
16 error. But I had sent copies of all of the subpoenas. I
17 reissued those subpoenas from the courthouse, from the clerk,
18 who signed off on them, and they received those as well.

19 So actually the order, as far as the Court, and I
20 have a jurisdiction was not appropriately -- filed. So I filed 21 the motion to set that order aside, and that's where we're at 22 at this point.

23 And I listed the specific information about General
24 Motors and why the liability is still an issue, and it really
25 stems from a letter that -- also it kind of came from them,

1 which says that -- and I filed this with my proof of claim as 2 an interested party, which states that General Motors -- the 3 description of the lawsuit was it was a class action lawsuit,
4 and my vehicle is one of the vehicles that's listed in here, a
5 2003 Chevrolet Suburban, and it mentions --

6 THE COURT: Pause, please, Ms. Woody. Your lawsuit
7 was not a class action lawsuit, right?

8 MS. WOODY: No, it wasn't. It wasn't part of the 9 class action lawsuit, no, sir, it wasn't.

10 THE COURT: No, I don't understand. You're saying
11 you were a member of a class, of somebody else's class action
12 lawsuit?

13 MS. WOODY: Oh, no, sir. I'm saying that I'm 14 referencing that there was other plaintiffs that have filed a
15 lawsuit against General Motors regarding the same issues that I 16 had filed a lawsuit against.

17 THE COURT: What does that have to do with you?

18 MS. WOODY: Well, it's just that there are other 19 cases out there with the same type of problem, or there were 20 other cases out there with the same type of problems that I had 21 with my vehicle, with the manufactured defects.

22 THE COURT: Okay. Do you want to talk about the 23 Sonnax factors?

24 MS. WOODY: I'm sorry?

25 THE COURT: Do you want to be heard on what GM said

MOTORS LIQUIDATION COMPANY, et al.

1 about the Sonnax factors?

2 MS. WOODY: Sonnax factors?

3 THE COURT: Yes. If you don't know what they are --

4 MS. WOODY: No.

5 THE COURT: -- then I'll rule on them based --

6 because I know what they are. But you don't want to speak to 7 that; am I correct?

8 MS. WOODY: I'm not aware of what the Sonnax factors
9 are at this point.

10 THE COURT: Okay. Fair enough.

11 MS. WOODY: Uh-huh.

12 THE COURT: Do you have a copy -- well, I'll ask
13 Mr. Smolinsky. Did the North Carolina court issue its ruling
14 in writing? Hello? Are you still with me, Ms. Woody?

15 MS. WOODY: Oh, yes, I'm sorry. I didn't know if you
16 were talking to an attorney. There was a ruling about the 17 court not having subject matter. It was an issue with the 18 subpoenas, but as I mentioned, I have asked that that motion be 19 set aside, so that's going to be scheduled for court, but 20 before I can schedule that, I needed to have a motion for 21 relief so I can continue showing the judge that in the file,
22 all the subpoenas, and they were all issued. I've sent 23 certified copies and so forth of all the information. So that 24 order, you know, is not correct.

25 THE COURT: Okay. Thank you. All right. I'll hear

MOTORS LIQUIDATION COMPANY, et al.

1 from Mr. Smolinsky now. Mr. Smolinsky, start with, did the 2 North Carolina court issue its ruling in writing?

3 MR. SMOLINSKY: It did, Your Honor, and I'm just --
4 through my investigation from my office. The reason why it
5 wasn't -- we didn't attach it to the papers, was that it didn't
6 say anything substantive. It merely stated that GM's motion
7 for summary judgment is granted in its entirety, and 8 plaintiff's complaint is dismissed.

9 THE COURT: When it said GM, did it make a
10 distinction between Old GM and New GM?

11 MR. SMOLINSKY: I would have to say they were talking
12 about New GM, because that's the one who filed the motion for 13 summary judgment, and we had already worked out with Ms. Woody
14 that we were severed from that case. So I wouldn't -- 15 certainly wouldn't assume that the judge was dismissing the 16 case as to us.

17 THE COURT: All right. Continue.

18 MR. SMOLINSKY: And plaintiff's complaint is 19 dismissed in its entirety, as asserted against General Motors
20 LLC f/k/a General Motors Company, s/h/a General Motors
21 Company/severally a division of GM/General Motors Corp., and 22 that's all it said.

23 So we paraphrased, based on what the motion for 24 summary judgment was, which was based on a timeliness --

25 THE COURT: I don't quarrel with your paraphrase, Mr.

1 Smolinsky, but without being critical of another judge, without
2 understanding the basis upon which the other judge ruled, I
3 have some difficulty applying res judicata or collateral
4 estoppel.

5 MR. SMOLINSKY: I don't dispute that, Your Honor, and 6 I don't think that we're arguing that the judge has already 7 dismissed the case as to us.

8 THE COURT: Okay. You don't need to repeat yourself
9 on the Sonnax factors. Ms. Woody says she never got a proof of 10 claim form or got timely notice of the need to file a claim,
11 even though there was apparently ongoing communications between 12 her and GM's counsel down in North Carolina. Do you have any 13 facts relevant to that?

14 MR. SMOLINSKY: I don't, Your Honor, other than the 15 fact that we did our best to notify parties to actions and 16 threatened actions, using information that was provided by, at 17 that time, New GM. I can't confirm or deny today whether Ms.
18 Woody was on that list.

19 I did hear her say that she knew that the bankruptcy
20 was filed at the time, but other than that, I would have to do
21 some further investigation.

22 THE COURT: Okay. Well, again, I don't have a
23 problem with you or your firm, Mr. Smolinsky, but other people
24 who have gotten involved in one way or another in this 25 controversy may not have done all the things that -- let's just

1 say that best practices would've suggested that they could've
2 or should've done.

3 You don't need to repeat yourself on Sonnax factors.
4 Is there anything else you want to talk about, Mr. Smolinsky?

5 MR. SMOLINSKY: Other than to just, you know, confirm
6 for the record that this action was filed after our bankruptcy
7 was filed, and so when you look at the first Sonnax factor,
8 there are several matters that are not North Carolina state
9 court issues, but would have to come back to the bankruptcy
10 court for, such as whether the North Carolina action is voided
11 as a matter of law for violating the stay, whether any judgment
12 is unenforceable for the failure to file a proof of claim, or 13 whether any claims, an expressed warranty claim that would be 14 assumed by New GM, or a retained liability under the master
15 sale and purchase agreement.

16 With respect to the settlement, you know, we have 17 tried to take a very practical approach in this case. We have 18 resolved a number of cases in similar situations where there
19 hasn't been proofs of claim. We think that the bankruptcy
20 environment is the best way to do that in. I think we made --
21 we spoke to Ms. Woody twice, and offered at each time a 22 settlement offer, which I think was very generous, relative to 23 I think the amount of her repairs, and those offers were 24 rejected.

25 I don't want to violate Rule 408, I'm happy to

MOTORS LIQUIDATION COMPANY, et al.

1 disclose what the offer was, if Your Honor is interested, but
2 so far we have not been able to resolve it. I think the 3 practicality and the efficiency of this case is the important
4 issue here. I think that we can deal with this claim here in 5 the bankruptcy court. I fear very much that to the extent that 6 this moves back to North Carolina, that we're going to be mired
7 in litigation for a long time over a claim of a very small 8 amount.

9 THE COURT: All right. Everybody, have a seat,
10 please. Mr. Smolinsky and Ms. Woody, I'm now going to rule.

11 Ladies and gentlemen, I am denying relief from the 12 stay. Which means, Ms. Woody, that I am denying permission for 13 you to proceed in North Carolina, but will also be issuing a 14 supplemental order in the interest of justice, which I will 15 describe in a moment.

16 The narrowest issue before me is whether you, Ms.
17 Woody, should be allowed to proceed with further litigation in 18 North Carolina; and a motion of that character is governed by 19 twelve factors that I am directed by the 2nd Circuit Court of 20 Appeals to consider, which are known as the Sonnax factors,
21 S-o-n-n-a-x, as described in a case reported at 907 F2d 1280.

22 Those factors overwhelmingly weigh in favor of me
23 exercising my discretion, which the case law permits me to do,
24 to deny relief from the stay.

25 The first Sonnax factor is whether relief would

MOTORS LIQUIDATION COMPANY, et al.

1 result in a partial or complete resolution of the issues. Here
2 that depends on how you would define it. It appears that the
3 -- a decision was issued insofar as General Motors LLC, what I
4 call New GM, would be concerned. Here the litigation would 5 proceed, presumably it could result in a resolution of the 6 issues with respect to Old GM, but at the same time, the North
7 Carolina state court judge might rule that the same reasons
8 that he gave for ruling in favor of New GM would also apply to 9 Old GM, if in fact, he didn't have that in mind already. I
10 can't be sure.

11 So this factor, when it's present in a clear way, 12 normally weighs in favor of granting relief from the stay, but 13 here it either is a wash or tilts against it. Lack of any 14 connection with or interference with the bankruptcy case is the 15 second factor, and that weighs materially in favor of Old GM 16 here.

17 There have been many, I don't remember how many 18 similar motions that we've dealt with before where people want
19 to proceed with litigation against Old GM all around the 20 country, and the cost of defending these is a burden upon all 21 of GM's creditors, and creates both interference and burden on 22 that.

23 We do have a claims process for dealing with this
24 type of stuff. I'm going to come back to the claims process
25 later. But that's the way that a claim of this character

1 should be dealt with, not by litigating in North Carolina.

2 Whether the other proceeding involves the debtor as a
3 fiduciary weighs in favor of relief from the stay when it's 4 applicable, but here it's not applicable.

5 Factor number four is whether a specialized tribunal
6 with the necessary expertise has been established to hear the 7 cause of action, and that factor weighs in favor of granting 8 relief from the stay when it applies. But when it doesn't 9 apply, it's either a wash or tilts against it.

10 The fifth factor is whether the debtor's insurer has 11 assumed full responsibility for defending it, and like some of 12 the predecessors, it weighs in favor of granting relief from 13 the stay when it's applicable, but here it does not apply. So 14 it is either a wash or tends to weigh against relief from the 15 stay.

16 Whether the action primarily involves third parties;
17 well, again when this factor is present, it tends to weigh in 18 favor of granting relief from the stay. There obviously here
19 is one third party, which is New GM, but which is no longer in 20 the case, and now as a practical matter, all we're talking
21 about is whether these claims should be heard in the claims
22 process or down in North Carolina. So this factor is at most a
23 wash or alternatively, weighs against relief from the stay.

24 Factor number seven is whether litigation in another
25 forum would prejudice the interests of other creditors, and in

1 a different context I talked about this. This is indeed
2 prejudicial to the other creditors because they would have to 3 bear the cost of litigation by Old GM in North Carolina, which 4 is unfair to them. Those factors weighs materially in favor of 5 denying relief from the stay.

6 Whether the judgment claim arising from the other
7 action is subject to equitable subordination is factor number
8 eight. And here, under the facts, this factor doesn't apply at 9 all or alternatively is regarded as a wash. It just doesn't 10 apply.

11 Factor number nine is whether movant's success in the 12 other proceeding would result in a judicial lien avoidable by 13 the debtor. This too doesn't apply.

14 Factor number ten, which is one of the most 15 important, is the interests of judicial economy and the 16 expeditious and economical resolution of litigation. This 17 relates to a couple of the others and this weighs heavily
18 against granting relief from the stay.

19 I can deal with the matters of judicial economy much
20 more quickly and easily in the claims process, and going back
21 to start up a whole new litigation in North Carolina is going
22 to be exactly the opposite of being expeditious or economical,
23 and is exactly the kind of thing that the interests of judicial 24 economy say that I would be nuts to do.

25 Factor number eleven, whether the parties are ready

1 for trial in the other proceeding is a factor that when it
2 applies weighs in favor of granting relief from the stay, but
3 here it doesn't apply. So once more, it's either a wash or 4 tends to vote or weigh against granting relief from the stay.

5 Impact of the stay on the parties and the balance of 6 harms, is here essentially a wash. I can grant whatever relief
7 is in the interest of justice as well, and most likely quicker
8 than the North Carolina court could.

9 So for the foregoing reasons, I'm exercising my 10 discretion to deny relief from the stay. With that said, I
11 take Ms. Woody at her word when she said she didn't get notice
12 of a deadline for filing claims. And I wasn't a fly on the 13 wall, so I don't know what Ms. Woody was told by the lawyers
14 for New GM, who were defending that lawsuit down in North
15 Carolina, but if it is true, as Ms. Woody alleges, that she had 16 all these conversations with these guys and they never told her
17 about the fact that she'd need to file a claim and the deadline
18 for doing that, that's a matter of concern to me.

19 So what I'm going to do is, Ms. Woody, I'm going to 20 give you thirty days from the date that GM gives you service of 21 the order denying your motion for relief from the stay, to file
22 a proof of claim for the costs that you claim that you were 23 suffered. And if you file a proof of claim, then you will get 24 the same distributions as other creditors of GM with 25 prepetition claims get, to the extent that there is either

1 agreement on what your damages should be or I, as a judge,
2 resolve it.

3 That does not mean that if by way of example, you
4 file a proof of claim for nine thousand dollars, you're going
5 to get a check for nine thousand dollars. First of all, it's 6 only what your damages actually are, and second, you're going 7 to get the same amount on a claim that other creditors get.
8 And I don't know exactly what a claim is worth in this case,
9 but let's say it's fifteen or twenty cents on the dollar,
10 that's what we're talking about, and it might be less for that 11 matter. I just don't know, I don't know what the value of the 12 stock that is going to ultimately go to creditors is, but 13 that's the way it's going to be.

14 This ruling is, of course, without prejudice to the 15 rights of Old GM or its creditor's committee to object to the 16 proof of claim if one is filed, and I would encourage you,
17 Ms. Woody, considering how little a claim may be worth, to 18 seriously consider any settlement that GM might offer you, but 19 ultimately that's your decision, not mine.

20 Mr. Smolinsky, you're to settle an order in 21 accordance with this dictated ruling, saying in substance that 22 for the reasons set forth on the record, the motion for relief
23 from the stay is denied, but also providing that Ms. Woody will 24 have thirty days to file a proof of claim, and if she does file
25 a proof of claim that this ruling is without prejudice to

1 everybody's rights on whether or not that proof of claim should 2 be allowed.

3 The time to appeal from this determination will run
4 from the date of entry of the order, and not from today, and 5 the usual fourteen-day stay of effectiveness of the order under 6 Bankruptcy Rule 4001 will remain in effect.

7 All right. I believe we're done, folks.

8 Mr. Smolinsky?

9 MR. SMOLINSKY: Your Honor, I would just note that 10 Ms. Woody is free to contact me at the number on the papers or 11 Breanna Benefield (ph) who she spoke to several times, if she 12 wants to bypass the proof of claim process and see if we can 13 just reach agreement.

14 MS. WOODY: I can barely hear, I'm sorry.

15 THE COURT: All right. Mr. Smolinsky, pull the 16 microphone real close to you and just repeat to her so she can 17 hear what you just told me.

18 MR. SMOLINSKY: Your Honor, I was just making the 19 offer that if Ms. Woody wanted to try to bypass the proof of 20 claim process, that she's free to call me at the number on our 21 papers or Breanna Benefield who she has spoken to on several 22 occasions.

23 THE COURT: Okay. Did you follow that, Ms. Woody?

24 MS. WOODY: I did, and thank you very much.

25 THE COURT: Okay. Have a nice day. We're adjourned.
